

American Society for Nutrition
Excellence in Nutrition Research and Practice
www.nutrition.org

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Two ASN Journals Receive their Highest Impact Factors in 2017

Advances in Nutrition and The Journal of Nutrition received their highest Impact Factors ever, maintaining their places, along with AJCN, among the top-ranked journals in nutrition and dietetics.

Rockville, MD – July 6, 2018 – The American Society for Nutrition (ASN) announced growth in Impact Factors for two journals in the Nutrition Science Collection. Increasing citations in 2017 advanced the rankings of Advances in Nutrition (AN) and The Journal of Nutrition (JN) among the leaders in the Nutrition and Dietetics category.

The 2017 Journal Citation Reports by Clarivate Analytics ranked Advances in Nutrition as a top review journal, with an all-time-high Impact Factor of 6.853, which placed AN in the top 4th percentile of 8,994 journals in the Science Citation Index. The Journal of Nutrition is a top ranked primary research title, with an all-time-high Impact Factor of 4.398, and is placed in the 11th percentile among all journals indexed. The American Journal of Clinical Nutrition, with an Impact Factor of 6.549, remains the highest ranked research journal in the category and in the 5th percentile among all journals indexed.

"The continued growth and influence of ASN journals in the Nutrition and Dietetics category is a testament to the talent and vision of ASN's editorial teams, our editorial boards, and our reviewers," said Dr. Catherine Field, president of ASN. "As nutrition science research progressively generates more discoveries, ASN journals are critical resources for researchers, students, policy makers and all individuals who seek a deeper understanding of the impact of the science. We look forward to receiving an impact factor for ASN's newest journal, Current Developments in Nutrition (CDN), in 2019 and are pleased that CDN is now indexed in PubMed."

Journal Citation Reports are published annually by Clarivate Analytics. Impact Factors measure the yearly average number of citations in recent journal articles compared to citable items published during the previous two years.

About the American Society for Nutrition

ASN is the authoritative voice on nutrition and publisher of The American Journal of Clinical Nutrition, The Journal of Nutrition, Advances in Nutrition and Current Developments in Nutrition. Established in 1928, ASN's 6,500 members in 100 countries work in academia, practice, government and industry. ASN advances excellence in nutrition research and practice through its publications, education, public affairs and membership programs, reaching over 36 million individuals annually. Visit us at www.nutrition.org.

Media Contact: Karen King, Vice President for Publications and Member Services, American Society for Nutrition, kingk@nutrition.org

###

